

Lt. Governor Jari Askins Visits SWOSU Campus

12.08.2009

Braving icy roads, Lt. Gov. Jari Askins still showed up at Southwestern Oklahoma State University on December 8 to speak to SWOSU students and employees and the general public. Askins encouraged the students to complete their college degrees. She also shared stories about her life and then answered questions from the audience. Her visit to Weatherford was sponsored by the SWOSU President's Leadership Class at SWOSU.
